

GAME4MANAGER – E-LEARNING GAME

Andrea Németh
INNOVATEXT

In the first part of my presentation I introduce the activity of INNOVATEXT.

In the second part I present one of our projects named Game4Manager - Corporate Game for Managers in Quality, Environment, Safety and Energy.

Game4Manager is a management game in a virtual reality environment incorporating the latest technologies it intends to promote learning in Quality, Environment, Safety and Energy. The role of player is implementing an Integrated Management System in a virtual company in 12 successive steps, analyzing, managing and improving all the significant aspects related to the company's sustainable development. The game will be provided through Internet in November 2010 in six languages (Portuguese, English, French, Hungarian, Greek and Swedish) and it will be available to all companies, regardless the area of activity, since its relevance crosses all sectors. With this game we would like to help employees with management activities, which want to achieve and/or to deepen skills in the mentioned areas. Student is also a target, in order to increase their knowledge and acquire the multidisciplinary that work market requires.

Keywords: Serious game, quality, environment, safety, energy.
